COURT ORDER RESTRAINS COAL STRIKE

COUNCIL HEARS PUBLIC VIEWS ON BOND ISSUE

Meeting Set for Tonight To Decide Action on Hospital Problem.

About 20 persons, including members of city council, attended a public meeting called by council at Central Junior High school auditorium Saturday night to discuss whether or not $200,000 in bonds for additions and alteration at City hospital, authorized in the general election of 1941, should be issued. The bonds must be issued by the end of this year or the issue becomes dead.

Opinion at the meeting was divided. Nine persons, representing the administrative department of city government, the Chamber of Commerce, industrial groups and citizens spoke on the measure. No member of council spoke. President of Council William G. Slack presided.

Council will meet tonight and either instruct the mayor to issue the bonds or repeal legislation authorizing the issue.

Opposed by Mayor

Mayor Harry L. Dowler spoke against issuing the bonds. "The city will be committed to a hodgepodge hospital if they are issued," he declared. He pointed out that an addition would have to be extended eastward toward Delaware avenue, a busy thoroughfare. He also said that the Civic Planning Association when drawing up a program for improvements in Marion not long ago, did not see fit to include hospital expansion. The present hospital is adequate, the mayor maintained. When the bonds were voted, in 1941, the hospital's capacity was 50 patients. Since that time, he said, expansion, largely financed by the federal government, has brought the hospital's capacity up to 112 beds, and there is still room for expansion of the present facilities. Mayor Dowler recommended that the present issue be allowed to die and in eight or 10 years a proposal for a new hospital be placed before the voters.

Favored by Uncapher

Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher, however, advanced the proposal that a fireproof addition be built, constructed so that it will be a unit of a complete new building which may be put up later on. He recommended that the addition be put up along Superior street. The present annex is short-lived, Mr. Uncapher maintained, and steps should be taken now to insure adequate facilities for the future. He recommended, however, that work on such an addition not be started until building conditions become normal.

The Chamber of Commerce, through its president, Robert T. Mason, secretary, Louis E. Michel, and chairman of civic affairs committee, Earl J. Andrews, came out in favor of issuing the bonds. "We should at least start to do the job the people asked us to do five years ago," Mr. Mason declared. Mr. Michel brought up the question whether or not the voters would approve another issue for a new hospital. "If the present bonds are issued, they might be considered as a matching fund for future state grants," he said, indicating that a trend was shaping toward legislation under which the state would match funds with municipalities for expansion of hospital facilities. Mr. Andrews said the Chamber's primary purpose was to bring the issue out in the open, but that he believes the $200,000 should be used.

Reason for Opposition Given

Ben T. Wiant, representing a group of Marion manufacturers, spoke against issuing the bonds. He said (1) the present facilities can be expanded; (2) the site, across from a cemetery, is not appropriate; (3) the need for which the bonds were authorized by the voters has been satisfied by the temporary addition; (4) the temporary addition has about five years service left; (5) about $60,000 would be needed to do proper job, rather than the $200,000 which might have been adequate in 1941; (6) the present building was not intended for a hospital and it is wasteful to pour additional funds into it. He recommended that the present facilities be maintained as long as it is necessary to do so, and that a special for a new hospital, which

Pay Demands Highlight CIO 8th Convention

Murray Clears Decks for Drive To Boost Industry Wages.

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18—President Philip Murray opened the CIO's eighth convention today by declaring that the coming wage struggle was the convention's main concern.

In an extemporaneous keynote speech before an estimated 600 delegates, the 60-year-old labor leader pinned the blame for last winter's strikes on the industrialists. He said no CIO union "precipitated a strike."

Important Meeting

He began by saying this would be one of the most important of all CIO conventions. He also declared it would be a "unified" convention.

To clear the decks for the wage drive, the CIO leadership has seized the "Communist issue" by the horns and forced all elements in the organization to subscribe to a strong anti - Communist declaration.

Three subjects stood out importantly on the convention agenda:

1. The wage drive.

2. More steam behind the southern organizing drive.

3. A more effective political action committee.

The convention also was scheduled to approve the anti-Communist declaration which was endorsed unanimously by the 51-man executive board yesterday.

The statement puts the CIO on record as pledging only one national allegiance—to the United States. It declares the convention delegates "resent and reject efforts of the Communist party or other political parties and their adherents to interfere in the affairs of the CIO."

To Push Wage Demands

Evidence was overwhelming that CIO unions intend to push their wage demands with vigor regardless of what a Republican-controlled congress might do in January.

Murray already had issued a 77-page effort to the convention in which he called for higher wages and lower prices to avoid what he termed an economic collapse.

Murray has permitted the question of his retirement to remain in doubt, but delegates seem convinced he will accept reelection at the close of the convention Friday or Saturday.

HEARING ON WINTER'S GAS SUPPLY CLOSES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — A hearing involving this winter's natural gas supply in eight states reached its final stage before a federal power commission examiner today.

The Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., foreseeing a shortage of 30 million cubic feet a day, wants authority to cut down supplies to some customers if necessary during cold periods. Commission engineers made a similar suggestion.

The plan was protested by companies in Oklahoma, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Texas which buy gas from Panhandle for resale to consumers.

E. Buddrus, president of Panhandle, said some of the wholesale purchasers made a shortage

PLAN SUPER HIGHWAYS FOR OHIO. Construction of five super highways in Ohio, similar to the famed Pennsylvania turnpike, is planned by the Ohio turnpike committee which will seek state approval to break ground in the spring. According to committee chairman, Dr. William Edmunds of Cleveland, the project will take three years to complete. When toll revenue pays the $650,000,000 cost the roads will become the property of the state. The committee estimates 75,000 workers will be employed on this project to make Ohio the state of super highways.

BEVIN GIVES UN VETO PROPOSAL

Suggests Drafting "Code of Conduct" To Restrict Big 5 Use.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 — British Foreign Secretary Bevin intends to urge the Big Five powers of the United Nations today to draft a new "code of conduct" restraining use of their veto power in the UN security council.

This was disclosed by authoritative informants as the Big Five foreign ministers moved to lift the veto issue temporarily from the UN assembly and add it to their own already heavy tasks—finishing the satellite peace treaties and beginning German peace talks.

By such action Bevin and Secretary of State Byrnes were reported hopeful they could meet the anti-veto criticisms of small nations and simultaneously preserve cooperation with Russia. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov agreed to talk things over. The formula of Big Five private talks was used when the charter was written at San Francisco.

The United Nations itself was asked in a sense to sanction the procedure. France proposed that the assembly's political and security committee drop all veto discussion today until the foreign ministers have acted.

Byrnes conferred on the veto fight today with leading members of the United States delegation to the UN assembly, preliminary to beginning discussion of the issue on a Big Five basis.

Byrnes called in Warren R. Austin, chief of the United States delegation to the United Nations, Senator Connally (D-Tex), an adviser, and Herschel Johnson, deputy delegation chief. They met behind closed doors for an hour and a half.

C. of C. Renews Effort To Get Airline Service for Marion

A new attempt to provide airline service for Marion was started today when the city and the Marion Chamber of Commerce mailed to the civil aeronautics board in Washington a brief listing exceptions to a report of the board's examiners denying applications of United Airlines, Inc. and Eastern Airlines, Inc. to establish airline service through Marion.

The nine-page brief, signed by Mayor Harry L. Dowler, listed the reasons why Marion is in need of air service, calling particular attention to the city's industrial and commercial needs and listing its major industries.

The application of Eastern Airlines, Inc., if approved, would provide air service between Cleveland and Louisville, Ky., and the United Airlines Inc. would provide air service between Chicago and Akron, with regular stops at Marion included in both schedules.

One Application Approved

The civil aeronautics board has previously approved an application of the Trans-Ohio Airlines, Inc. for an air route between Toledo and Huntington, W. Va., with Marion as an intermediate point.

Local officials said today they expected an oral hearing on the airline proposals to be scheduled before the board sometime in December. City and Chamber of Commerce officials are expected to attend the hearing.

In its brief, the city maintains Marion particularly needs air service to Dayton, Cincinnati and Louisville because "surface transportation to these points is completely inadequate." Marion also should be given air service to Cleveland, the brief points out.

Say Needs Ignored

It also enters a general exception to the examiners' denial of applications by Eastern Airlines, Inc., and United Airlines, Inc. to provide air service to Marion on the ground that such denials "ignore Marion's needs of such air service and offer nothing in place of services denied."

In a prefix to its brief, the city lists the reasons for its needs for air service to and through Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland, Columbus and Akron. It states "in the face of what seems to be adequate surface transportation, the time of departure of trains to these cities makes a full business day almost impossible." Marion has no direct, or even convenient, connecting schedules with Dayton and Cincinnati. Yet, there is a great community of interest with these cities and their trade areas," the brief maintains.

2 ARRESTED IN BANK HOLDUP

Charge Columbus Youths with $167,189 Thornsville Robbery.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18—Bernard Howell, 24, and Glenn Neff, 21, both of Columbus, were under arrest today in connection with the sensational $167,189 robbery of the Peoples Bank of Thornville Saturday.

They were seized yesterday by the FBI, which announced the men confessed forcing bank cashier E. H. Christ, a woman employe and a customer into the vault before escaping in an automobile with $18,189 in cash and $149,000 in bonds, many negotiable.

Howell and Neff, both war veterans, were to be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon on charges of violating the federal bank robbery statute.

The FBI said the men were arrested on information provided by Sheriff Clair Butts of Perry county and Patrolman John C. Eddle of the highway patrol.

The FBI quoted Howell and Neff as saying that after the robbery they drove to an abandoned barn five miles southeast of Thornville and hid a canvas bag containing the cash and bonds in straw on the dirt floor.

The officers said all but about $100 was recovered in the barn.

The robbery occurred around noon Saturday. Bank cashier Crist said the robbers were dressed in "Sloppy Joe" collegiate style. They wore shirt tails outside their pants, and one wore a ten-gallon cowboy hat.

After hiding the money and bonds, the men returned to Columbus by way of Canal Winchester and Baltimore, the FBI said.

The two men also told the FBI men they drove to the north side of Columbus and made a down payment on a used car.

Highway patrolmen reported a .32 caliber revolver was found buried with the money and bonds.

The FBI office said Neff once served a term in the Elmira, (N. Y.) state reformatory on an auto theft charge.

The Thornville bank is protected by the federal deposit insurance corporation, accounting for FBI intervention in the case.

U. S. Loans to 1947 Corn Producers Authorized

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Stabilization Director John R. Steelman today authorized government loans to producers of the 1946 corn crop at 90 per cent of the Oct. 1 parity price.

The loans will be offered by the commodity credit corporation.

Steelman said the agriculture department reports that the loan program is necessary "to enable producers to retain stocks on farms for feeding purposes and to stabilize and protect the price of corn."

Agriculture department officials said the Oct. 1 parity price had not been computed yet, but they estimated that it was about $1.28 a bushel. This would make the loan rate about $1.15 a bushel.

20,000 in Four States Quit Soft Coal Mine Jobs

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18—Some 20,000 miners quit work in four states today 72 hours ahead of the suspension deadline threatened in the nation's soft coal fields.

The idle included 6,500 in Pennsylvania, 6,000 in West Virginia, 5,500 in Illinois and 2,000 in Alabama. Heavy absenteeism from some working mines also was reported in some sections.

A survey of Kentucky coal fields today showed they were operating at near normal capacity, with two more days remaining for work before the Wednesday midnight deadline set by United Mine Workers chief John L. Lewis for expiration of the union contract.

There are about 400,000 miners in the bituminous coal industry.

Industry spokesmen said absenteeism in mines still operating was "running high" in some sections of the Pittsburgh area and "not too serious" in others.

Hardest hit was the Pittsburgh Coal Co. with five of its 14 mines closed and about 3,000 workers idle. A company spokesman said the miners failed to appear for work at three of the pits, while at the other two, the miners showed up but returned home without entering the shafts.

The four captive mines closed, the SPA reported, were Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation's Vesta No. 4 and No. 6, with 1,920 men; and Republic Steel's Clyde No. 1 and Crescent No. 2, employing 550 miners each.

Western Pennsylvania has approximately 100,000 bituminous miners.

Delaware Children's Home Damaged by Fire

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 18—Fire broke out in the Delaware Children's Home while 75 youngsters were getting up but all left the brick building in orderly fashion and the blaze was extinguished quickly, Supt. C. E. McKinnie reported.

McKinnie said the fire was discovered in the furnace room and burned through the dining room floor before it was put out by the Delaware fire department.

He said children were back inside eating breakfast about a half hour later and had time to dress for protection against the cold weather before leaving the building.

Walker is suffering from cerebral thrombosis, a hospital bulletin said, and was given the last rites of the Catholic church yesterday by Father Joseph Weber of St. Joseph's church.

MERGED CHURCH ELECTS BISHOPS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 18—Election of nine bishops to head the Evangelical United Brethren church was one of the first items of business at the new denomination's first conference sessions today following merger of the Evangelical and United Brethren in Christ churches here Saturday.

At final meetings before the merger, both groups re-named their former bishops—five in the United Brethren church and four in the Evangelical. All were slated for similar posts in the new church—the thirteenth largest Protestant denomination in the nation with more than 700,000 members.

First religious services of the new merged church drew capacity congregations yesterday morning and evening.

The Evangelical United Brethren church was formed at ceremonies in which Dr. A. R. Clippinger of Dayton, O., senior bishop of the former United Brethren church, read the "declaration of union" and shook hands with Bishop John S. Stamm of Harrisburg, senior bishop of the former Evangelical church.

LEWIS, UMW TOLD NOT TO BREAK PACT

Newest U. S. Move Bars Walkout, at Least Until Nov. 27.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—The justice department announced today Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough has signed a temporary order designed to restrain a walkout by John L. Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners.

The department said the restraining order bars Lewis from terminating at Wednesday midnight his working contract with the government.

Goldsborough's order, the department said, expires Nov. 27 at 3 p. m. unless "before such time the order for good cause shown is extended, or unless the defendants consent that it may be extended for a longer period."

A hearing on the justice department's request for a preliminary injunction to bar breach of contract was set for hearing Nov. 27 at 10:00 a. m.

The court action was taken as thousands of miners quit work curtailing bituminous production in advance of the termination deadline given by Lewis.

Restrains Lewis, UMW

According to the justice department, Goldsborough's order today restrained Lewis and the United Mine Workers from "breaching any of their obligations under" the Krug-Lewis agreement, and "from coercing, instigating, inducing or encouraging the mine workers at the bituminous coal mines in the government's possession, or any of them, or any person, to interfere by strike, slowdown, walkout, cessation of work or otherwise, with the operation of said mines by continuing in effect the aforesaid notice or by issuing any notice of termination or agreement or through any other means or device; and from interfering with or obstructing the exercise by the secretary of the interior of his functions under Executive Order 9728; and from taking any action which would interfere with this court's jurisdiction, or which would impair, obstruct, or render fruitless, the determination of this case by the court."

Executive order 9728 is the order of President Truman seizing the 3,300 bituminous coal mines during last spring's strike, May 22.

Goldsborough is a justice of the federal district courts here and long served in congress as a Democratic representative from Maryland.

Thousands of Miners Quit

Hours before he had acted on the government's complaint, miners by the thousands were quitting their jobs in advance of the Wednesday deadline set by Lewis' order.

President Truman had called for a showdown fight with Lewis over the threat of another nationwide soft coal strike.

Mr. Truman was vacationing in Florida but intimates said he had left orders for subordinates in the capital to either smash Lewis' leadership of the miners or bring him to terms on a deal to keep mines going.

Lewis, rejecting a government proposal for a truce, has "terminated" the miners' wage contract effective Wednesday midnight—a signal for a complete shutdown in the mine fields. The government insists the contract still is effective.

Asks Special Session

While the government strategy was developing, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) called on Mr. Truman to summon congress into special session at once to deal with the coal situation. The Chief Executive, Rankin said in a statement, should "take the lead in getting this country back to a government of laws instead of the present reign of racketeers."

Aside from stay-on-the-job appeals to miners, a high government official reported that government plans to block a mine shutdown including possible legal action to:

1—Freeze United Mine Workers funds.

2—Obtain a judgment restraining Lewis and the miners from carrying out a strike.

3—To prosecute Lewis under the Smith-Connally act which bans strikes in government-seized plants.

This official told a reporter privately that the justice department is ready to take those steps but is awaiting the go-ahead word from the interior department, which is operating the mines.

In advance of any of these possible moves, the government already has:

U. S. Tells Home Owners How They Can Get Coal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — The home owner who needs coal can buy it from frozen stocks simply by applying to his retail coal dealer and certifying that he has less than a ten-day supply, the solid fuels administration said today.

He need not fill out certificates or written statements. The SFA leaves it to the retailer to check the truth of the purchasers' reports that they are in need. The retailer in order to replenish his stocks will have to provide proof that his sales have been legitimate.

Domestic consumers with less than ten days stock of coal may purchase only a ten-day supply at a time.

Cheery Mary Lou Baker Arrives Here In Iron Lung To Boost Sister Kenny Drive

By AUSTIN E. SHOWMAN

A 20-year-old girl from Detroit, with pink ribbons in her blond hair and a smile on her face arrived in Marion this morning to make her plea for funds with which to help others stricken with the same disease as she. She is Miss Mary Lou Baker, the Girl in the Iron Lung, and her appearance here is a feature of the Sister Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation drive now underway throughout the state and nation.

The mobile iron lung unit carrying Miss Baker is on view on East Center street in front of the court house. The exhibit will be open until 6:30 p. m. tonight and all day tomorrow. It came here today from Lima and from here will go to Columbus where it will be on display through the rest of the week.

Starts Second Year

Miss Baker is starting her second year in "Betsy", the term she gives to her iron lung. When she first was placed in it she was allowed out only five minutes of each hour. Now she remains in the lung four hours and then is out two hours, 35 minutes.

When asked about her condition she smiles and says she is getting along fine. Traveling with her is "Tiney," her two and one-half year old toy Manchester dog. "Tiney and Betsy keep me company," she says.

Her trip in behalf of the Sister Kenney Infantile Paralysis Foundation drive will take her to every city in Ohio. Funds raised from the drive will remain in Ohio and will be used to build a hospital for the care of infantile paralysis patients. Proposed site for the hospital is on the Ohio State University campus grounds.

Miss Baker volunteered to travel for the Sister Kenny foundation because, she said, "I want other persons stricken with the disease to have the same excellent treatment I have had."

She has five brothers, one of whom is a coach at Wheaton college near Chicago. She attended Wheaton academy following her graduation from Northwestern High school in Detroit. Her father is a government employe.

Duanne Wiseman, acting chairman for the Sister Kenny drive in Marion county, said today, coin boxes would be placed in the downtown area within the next few days. The drive will continue through Dec. 8. Donations also are accepted at the mobile trailer unit, although there is no admission charge to see the exhibit.

The iron lung exhibit is sponsored by the Ohio Chapter of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation of which R. Kenneth Kerr, Lancaster Eagle-Gazette publisher, is chairman. James C. Woods, business manager of The Star, is district chairman for this region.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Relief for Pain

NEARLY all women suffer more or less discomfort during the regular periods, but there is one group in particular who are to be pitied because of the agonizing pain which the first day of this event brings with it.

Completely incapacitated for at least one day out of each month, they sometimes find it impossible to keep their jobs or to maintain a normal outlook on life bacuse of this constantly recurring illness.

Such women need treatment and fortunately, much can be done to aid them. The cause of their severe pain is not known but it is believed to be due to spasm in the muscles of the womb. When these muscles contract and clamp down, their constriction cuts off the normal blood supply and pain is the consequence.

Dr. Aleck Bourne of England reports in Practitioner, June, 1946, that he has divided women into three groups according to the type of pain they undergo at the time of the periods. In the first group are the women mentioned above whose pain occurs immediately after the beginning of the period. In the second group are those who have much less severe pain, which lasts for the entire duration of the period. They also may suffer from headache and backache as well as a feeling of sickness. The last group are those who have pain for a few days before the period starts.

Patients in the first group are said to have spasmodic dysmenorrhea. Dr. Bourne does not believe that such things as exercise, outdoor life, and building up the nutrition will bring much improvement in these patients. In younger girls such drugs as aspirin may give relief for a time. Belladonna which serves to relax muscle spasm is sometimes of great help. He has also found that treatment with gland extracts is not of much help.

Occasionally it will be found that some of the patients seem to show a marked gain in weight before the period due to retention of water in the tissues. Giving injections of a glandular extract from part of the pituitary gland during the week before the period starts may sometimes be helpful in these cases.

All of these various measures should be tried before surgical measures are resorted to to relieve the condition. Among the surgical measures used are stretching of the neck of the womb and the cutting of some of the nerves which run to the womb. Of course, these operations are employed in only the severe cases which are not relieved in any other way.

When painful periods are present there is need for a careful study by a specialist to determine the type of disorder present as well as its cause. Then the most effective treatment may be utilized.

Wyatt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wyatt of 301 Leader street. The custom of closed church was observed for the ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor. Decorating the altar was a white background arranged in a semi-circle entwined with green foliage and lighted with candles in four [illegible] seven-branch candelabra. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John T. Lodwig of Marion, wore a gown of white faun with a floor length skirt which extended into a long circular train. Trimmed with self-covered buttons down the back, the bodice had a marquisette yoke outlined with seed pearls and the long button-trimmed puffed sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her double bridal veil of illusion was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and extended over the length of the train. She carried a white satin covered Bible topped with an orchid and showered with white streamers tied with shattered carnations. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

A reception for 65 guests at the Manor House followed the ceremony. The rooms were decorated with baskets of white pompons and the bride's table, lighted with white tapers, held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and surrounded with a garland of ivy. Presiding in the dining room were Mrs. Merle Wise, and Mrs. Opal Wyatt, both of Marion, and Mrs. Harold Parkey of Columbus, all sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. George Flood of Marion.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York City, Mrs. Wyatt was wearing a brown velveteen suit trimmed with gold buttons with which she combined a pink flower hat and brown accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was her bridal bouquet. Upon their return, the couple will reside for the present at 161 Garden street.

Mrs. Wyatt, a graduate of Harding High school, was a student in the commercial training department at Capital university in Columbus. There she was a member of Kappa Sigma Theta sorority. Sgt. Otie Dished Up Couplets with His Chow

Lieutenants' Wit Sparkles

There was one lieutenant Otie hated. Each morning the lieutenant would enter the mess tent and say

Are you the mess sergeant?

"Yes, sir," Otie would reply—and cringe for the answer.

Well," the lieutenant would say, glancing around distastefully, "this place certainly is a mess sergeant."

Perhaps it was the daily jest which finally turned Otie to poetry for consolation. It was worse when the moon was full. Otie would stay up all night, grappling with the muse and then indeed the powdered eggs at breakfast would taste like curdled whale's supper.

Somebody made the error of telling Otie that Edwin Markham got $100,000 for "The Man With the Hoe." He became mercenary. He began slipping copies under my plate thinking I probably knew somebody who wanted to invest $100,000 in a quick profit.

One Poem Recalled

One poem I recall went something like this:

"Roses are red
Violets are blue
Your eyes are brown,
And mine to."

"Love stuff," Otie would say and spit out a stream of tobacco juice in modest confusion. And there was one that went roughly "My feet are in the mud of Flanders,

A [illegible] verse [illegible] like it had been written with a scalpel instead of a pencil. I encouraged Otie because—in return for my appreciation—he would smuggle me cans of peaches for a pre-bed snack. And canned peaches were something the colonels couldn't get.

Well, when last I saw Otie he was still serving Pegasus on night and spreading gallons by day with hamburger gravies that tasted like baked fur and sand.

It's a laugh to think of General Eisenhower entrusting Otie now to mend his cooking. That is, unless the general can write his orders in rhymed couplets. They'll catch Otie's ear—one khaki Shakespeare bulging to another. Otherwise Otie's soup will still be thin as a bat's whisper, watery as night club scotch.

Popular Brand

THE legislative program which Republicans are preparing for congress when it reconvenes was dictated by the majority of voters in this year's election.

The Republican party's job is to give the people what they voted for. Failure would mean repudiation of the party on its record in November 1948.

To guide them in their task, party members have studies of public opinion, their own political perception and the election results. They have no way of finding out how Americans feel on specific issues, but they have abundant evidence that on general questions most Americans want a reversal of the trend of the Truman administration.

The Truman administration itself has recognized this desire by liquidating control agencies and starting to clear out surplus bureaucracy held over from wartime activities. To the extent that executive authority continues to correct the things which the public had found objectionable, it will be doing what the Republicans would have had to do by legislative action otherwise.

At the outset of the period of change which began with the administration's pre-election efforts to get rid of the sources of its unpopularity, it is evident that Republicans and bonafide Democrats agree fully on what is the popular brand of politics now. It is the brand that opposes arbitrariness in government. It is the brand that restores a premium to individual freedom.

If the election had sustained those who had infiltrated the Democratic party and were using it as a Trojan horse to get inside the two-party system, the prospect would be for higher taxes, retention of all existing controls and addition of many more, further centralization of power, under grants of authority to executive agencies, and wholesale extensions of the theory that only government understands economic problems and therefore must manage the economic system and everything related to it.

Liberalism Protects Human Rights

ONE of the things that may get straightened out with a fair deal in power is the true meaning of liberalism in American politics.

At the moment there is a verbal battle between claimants to the title of liberalism's defenders. Henry A. Wallace is sniffing at the liberalism of Republicans like Senator Morse of Oregon, and Senator Morse is calling Mr. Wallace a reactionary. Senator Ball of Minnesota, proposing a federal law to outlaw the labor-union closed shop, calls federal agency control of the individual's right to work the most reactionary thing in the nation's industrial picture and wants such control abolished in behalf of liberalism.

Whatever may have been the purpose behind the section of the national labor relations act which invited unions to go the limit on closed-shop drives, the execution of the purpose has been anything but liberal. It has denied to certain citizens the protection of one of the most basic of human rights, the right to work. Moreover, it has been used by a divided organized labor movement in drives to gain advantage over competing unions. There is nothing recent about Senator Ball's conviction that nothing could be more illiberal than to place the right of men to work at the mercy of private organizations and public agencies. In 1945, as one of the authors of the Hatch-Ball-Burton bill, he proposed that closed-shop contracts be forbidden unless the majority union represented 75 per cent of the workers at the time the contract was signed and unless the contract was approved by 60 per cent of the workers. The Hatch-Ball-Burton bill further proposed that unions with closed-shop agreements should admit any qualified employe to membership.

It may be difficult to decide who is liberal and who is an impostor, but it is not difficult to decide that anything which rides roughshod and arbitrarily over any individual's rights is not liberalism. The closed shop as practiced under the labor relations act rides roughshod and arbitrarily over the rights of individuals.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Byrnes, Vandenberg, Bevin Uphold Peace Ideal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—The patient courage of Messrs. Byrnes, Vandenberg and Bevin in upholding the United Nations peace organization against the tide of persistent Russian pressure to reduce it to a rabble. Those who know the ins and outs here recognize the personal courage of the three men in responsibility for keeping the peace ideal aloft—a courage such as Byrnes displayed in resisting the Wallace policy within his own administration, the Vandenberg refusal to take up and make sound political capital out of the Democratic drift toward the Communist-dominated American labor party, and now the Bevin resistance to a pro-Communist drive led by an Oxford professor in his own British parliament. These men are sincerely fighting for a fair way of life, and they will not let go or give in, even when it hurts. Such diplomatic courage is a rare thing.

The tribute is more appreciated by those on high as the new Russian line of friendliness without abandonment of antagonism has come into effect—a sort of attempt at social grace while scuttling the common theory of world justice.

Valuable Protection

Without these three men the peace movement would fall to the unbelievable level of Russian world nonsense, to wit:

Albania, controlled by a Communist dictator actually proclaims the right of murder of innocent men. It refuses to let its internationally used waters be cleared of mines which have already sunk several British naval ships and killed British seamen. Any government of any hue, desiring the simplest human justice, would have demanded those straits be swept. The first incident to arise is met, but not Albania which stands convicted as Yugoslavia did in the shooting down of American airmen.

And Yugoslavia has sent to jail a religious man, a bishop, who fought against the Nazis and in the defense of Jews, simply because he refused to accept a repugnant communism—Tito proudly proclaiming his Catholics feat communism, just exactly as the Nazis tried to make all Jews fear death by concentration camps.

But perhaps the most serious current Russian attempt to make the world accept nonsense as a policy is on the question of American bases.

Now Russia got all her bases out of the Jap victory completely as her own. She took the Kuriles and Sakhalin islands north of Japan as Russian territory as well as a part of Korea. She gave nothing to the world organization to be put under trusteeship. Yet when President Truman comes forward with a proposal to let the United Nations have an international trusteeship over the air-vital islands southeast of Japan (which we conquered with American blood), alone, if only the trusteeship will let us manage them and not veto us—Russia arises in opposition. She wants the right of veto over our own bases!

A Generous Offer

The generous Truman offer is supposed to have been worked out by the state, war and navy policy committee. It was so generous some authorities erroneously thought it was a campaign gesture to the leftists and their Communists because it was made just before election, and the Marshall, Mariana and Caroline islands were won by Americans alone just as surely as Russia won her territory on the eastern front of Europe (but not Japanese territory because she did not enter that fight until it was won).

Even Britain has offered to trusteeship three remote African regions, the Cameroons, Tanganyika and Togoland, but she did not offer Gibraltar. The Pacific islands are our Gibraltar as far as future peace and protection against Communism revolution are concerned in the Pacific. With an international trusteeship Russia will learn all we are doing here. The Truman proposition was simply that we decide ourselves, without Russian veto, what to do there in the future air world, while letting the world keep in touch with what we do through its trusteeship.

The Russian position is even worse nonsense than these facts imply. Actually if she defeats the Truman proposal, we will keep the islands and can veto any UN action about our actions. We can keep them and run them without Russian veto. The only thing she can accomplish by her position is to sabotage the trusteeship system in UN.

The question thus cannot be avoided as to whether Russia also is trying to sabotage world common sense, the common world belief in justice, as well as the trusteeship system in its infancy.

Prospective Tenants By Appointments Only?

The White House has again been opened to the public.

Once more rightseers may wander about the historic premises in which Lincoln worked, Hoover slept and Truman is packing.

The executive mansion was closed to visitors during the war years, the people being afraid something would happen to Roosevelt.

Before that, during the first two Roosevelt administrations, the only way a Republican could get in the White House was on the 50-cent conducted tour, and what Republican was willing to let Roosevelt know he still had four bits?

Incidentally, despite recent political trends, there is no truth in the report that tourists asking to see the Blue Room are shown President Truman's private office.

Nevertheless, reopening of the White House to visitors will be welcomed not only by the general run of tourists, but also by Mesdames Dewey, Taft and Bricker, who'll want to be measuring the windows for drapes.

Nothing Unusual About It

White House-Congress Split Common.

DESPITE hysterical suggestions for getting President Truman out of the White House in favor of a Republican successor who could work with party majorities in Congress it is not unusual for a chief executive to have one or both houses controlled by the opposition.

In the 79 sessions of Congress so far, 29 have been split from the White House. It has happened three times in recent years. Republicans controlled both houses of Congress during Woodrow Wilson's last two years in office. Democrats had controlled the house during the last two years of William Howard Taft. In Herbert Hoover's last two years, Democrats were able to control the House because a number of Republicans died between the 1930 election and the convening of Congress. In the election itself, 217 Republicans and 215 Democrats had been elected, but when the House convened there were 213 Democrats present, only 213 Republicans. In the preceding House there had been 266 Republicans and 166 Democrats.

It has become traditional for the party in power to ask voters not to create chaos in government of Congress in midterm elections. It has become almost as traditional that whenever the plea is made the voters respond by doing what they have been asked not to do. The historic fact is that cooperation between the White House and the Capitol is often more than a party matter.

When the country is going through a midterm swing from Democrats to Republican, or vice versa, it may be a good thing to have one branch of the government slowing up the transition. A party given too much encouragement is unable to restrain itself in a reform program. It goes too far too fast—farther than it can furnish administration. That was what happened when the Democrats were swept into office by the landslide of 1932. The thought they could do no wrong.

As for the contention that a deadlock must ensue whenever the White House and Congress are politically divided, it is recalled that the same thing can happen when the White House and Congress are united. Theodore Roosevelt was stymied by substantial majorities of his own party. President Roosevelt and President Truman, with Democratic majorities in Congress, were unable to command action. After 1940, only the war saved Mr. Roosevelt from being the obvious victim of a party split. Calvin Coolidge's Republican Congress fought him incessantly. Mr. Hoover had trouble with Congress even while Republicans controlled it.

Differences between the executive and the legislative branch are accentuated, of course, when the opposition party gets control of either or both branches of Congress. The way this works out in most cases is that bills are sent to the White House which the incumbent executive feels he must veto. Also, the party controlling Congress can use the inability of the executive to take leadership by paving the way for its own presidential bid. In the words of Republican leaders in Congress every session of the 80th Congress "will open with a prayer and close with a probe." By the time the Democratic party squares away for its presidential campaign in 1948, all or nearly all of the war record will have been examined by the Republicans for flaws and scandals.

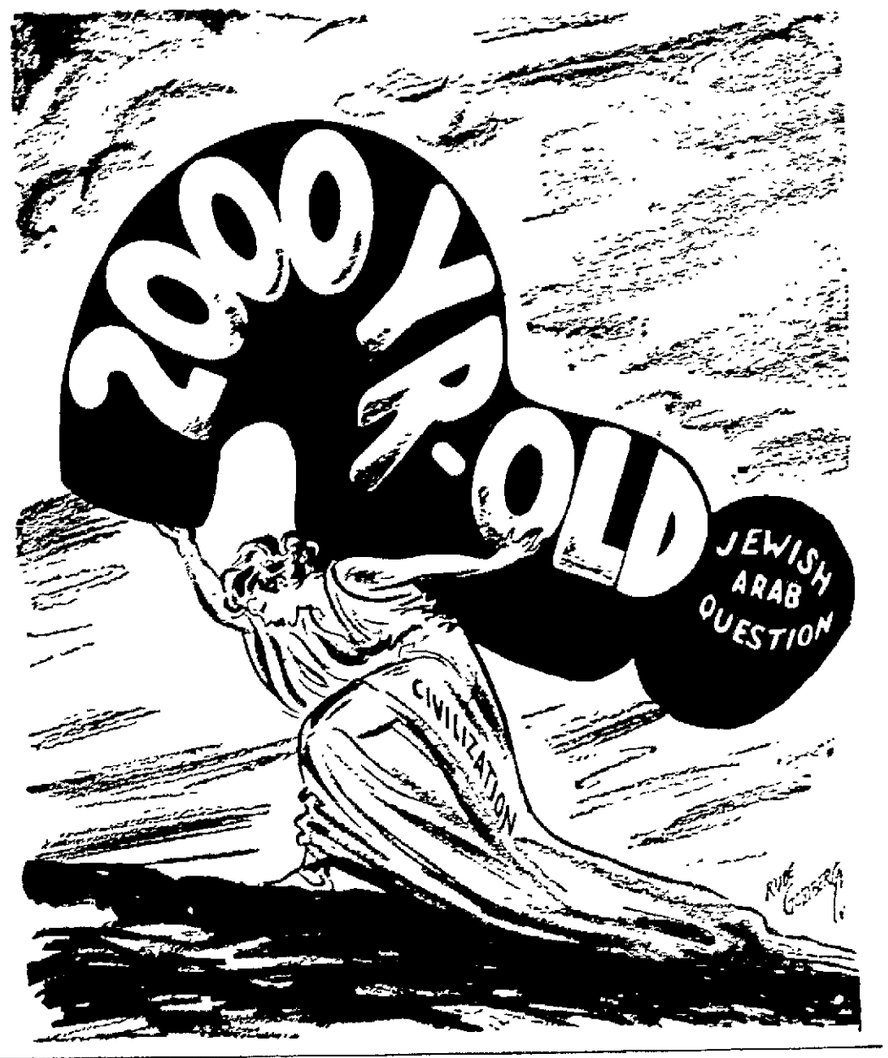
NO END IN SIGHT



Wind in Washington

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The present atmosphere of Washington suggests the cynical remark in the old spiritual—"Heb'n, Heb'n, Everybody Talkin' 'bout Heb'n Ain't Goin' There." In the uneasy 10 days since the election, everybody has talked about bi-partisan cooperation. It has been warmly indorsed by the President and his followers, by the Republican leaders and their henchmen, by the press and the pulpit. The enthusiasm for it is downright marvelous. There is only one fly in the ointment. As yet, no one seems to be taking any practical steps to establish the working machinery without which all the talk of bi-partisan cooperation is bound to be mere gas.

The plain truth appears to be that prior to the election neither the President nor the Republican leaders had thought through the problem which now confronts them. In the White House, evidently, it was not very good form to dwell on the probable violence of the blow until it fell. The President took the election like a good sport. The best evidence of that was his excellent post-election statement, which had its origin in a long evening's discussion of the voting results between Truman, his legal counsel, Captain Clark Clifford, and some other members of his staff. In preparing the statement itself, Clifford merely put the President's thoughts into the kind of language considered suitable for public consumption. But while the President has shown himself a good sport, he has not acted like a practiced political leader.

Without Real Plan.

Even now, he has no real plan for dealing with his appalling problem. He intends, according to those close to him, to bow to the will of the congressional majority "except in matters of principle." This will no doubt mean, in practice, that he will adopt the easy course of approving any legislation congress sends him unless the conflict between a bill's provisions and his own public pledges is downright outrageous. For the rest, he has as yet only a rather vague intention to "consult" from time to time with the Republican leaders, which is the system that bore shriveled fruit under Hoover.

Better plans than these may be produced when the President can confer with senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, who is now in Texas. The trio may decide to invite the Republican chieftains in congress to attend the Monday morning White House meetings on legislative strategy. They may even ask the Republicans to name representatives to sub-groups, to study such basic policy questions as the budget, the national defense, foreign affairs and taxes. But the niggardly approach to the problem is illustrated by the fact that the President is known to be more likely to include the Republicans in the Monday morning get-togethers if the new senate majority leader is Wallace White of Maine rather than Robert A. Taft of Ohio. The reason is, of course, that White is pleasanter to do business with—but that does not alter the fact that Taft has 10 times the influence, and is the man to take responsibility if anyone does.

Not All on One Side.

As for the Republicans, their lack of preparation has been equally obvious. It has long been evident, for example, that the rock on which a Republican congressional majority was most likely to split was the inconsistency between a program of tax and budget cuts, and a foreign policy requiring a strong national defense and extensive economic commitments overseas.

Some time ago, your correspondents predicted a division in the senate on this head, which would find Senators Arthur Hendrick Vandenberg and Robert A. Taft on different sides of the fence. Senator Taft at once wrote Senator Vandenberg that he fully supported the Vandenberg foreign policy. Thus Vandenberg supposed that decisions on all major policies would be deferred by the Republicans until their interrelations could be considered at a leaders' meeting here.

Instead, the ballots had hardly been counted before Senator Taft opened the positive barrage of Republican promises to cut the budget to the bone, and to reduce taxes by a comfortable 20 per cent. It is physically impossible for Senator Taft to lower expenditures to his promised $25,000,000,000 annually without tearing the living heart out of the national defense and outlawing any further loans or other spending in support of foreign policy. Thus the expected differences among the Republicans themselves are visibly taking form already. As for any plan of bi-partisan cooperation with the President, Senator Vandenberg is the only Republican leader who seems to favor anything of the sort on the working level.

There is, to be sure, one kind of bi-partisan cooperation which can be confidently anticipated. Certain conservative Democrats, who are only too happy that the left wing of their party has been roundly trounced, will work energetically with their Republican colleagues. If the new round of major strikes takes place as feared, this form of cooperation will reach new heights of enthusiasm. Indeed it is likely to result in labor legislation animated by a hostility to the trades union movement unparalleled in the congress since the late nineteenth century.

(The majority may well go so far in casting off restraint that such astute and cautious conservatives as Senator Taft will rebel.) But the renewal of the alliance between Republicans and southern Democrats will hardly solve the problem of governmental impotence, caused by the party difference between the congress and the presidency.

The Once Over

Open Diplomacy, Take It Away!

THE "open covenants openly arrived at" idea begins to look like a mistake. The old "secret treaties" of diplomacy may have seemed vain, but it sounded better.

* * *

Monkey wrenches weren't half so alarming when they were invisible.

* * *

The world thought that if it could make diplomats do their stuff out in the open it would get somewhere, but the goings on at all the peace sessions since have proved double-talk was less disturbing when it wasn't put through amplifiers.

* * *

The only difference is that now you get the plots, suspicions and hard feelings in technicolor and the words by international hookup, all of which leave nothing to illusion, sucks hope in the pants and makes peace seem like something that can only be attained by television.

* * *

Mankind is speaking openly. And he doesn't sound good.

* * *

The views of the diplomats are now sprayed into homes everywhere and they are leaving the occupants more troubled and befuddled than if they had been given nothing but sketchy transcripts.

* * *

In the so-called days of dark diplomacy we got a weekly summary of what the peacemakers were saying and thinking. It never scared the public as much as play-by-play broadcasts.

* * *

There seems to be just as much dirty work at the crossroads as ever. And it is much more disturbing with the added super production and sound effects. We used to be alarmed by occasional rumors. Now we are made doubly apprehensive through being able to see and hear the villains as they still pursue her.

* * *

Everything said and done by the United Nations is now on the up and up, and the result is to indicate that the greatest menace to world peace is speechmaking with no curb. The last world war saw a peace brought about in fewer languages and no radio assistance. Our impression is that if there had been microphones in those days, the orators would have been talking still.

* * *

Open diplomacy is all right if it is not so open that it gets confused with the commercials, the soap operas and the radio auditions.

* * *

The idea of having all the cards on the table is swell. But it might be just as well if the interludes when the boys play gin rummy were not broadcast.

* * *

The best thing that could happen to all bodies at work on peace would be a general loss of voice by the delegates, coupled with a realization that a better world can not be developed exclusively through the gas works.

"Why Break Your Back. Let Us Do It for you. P. Jos. Carroll Jr., Metuchen, N. J."
—Plainfield Courier-News

* * *

It's nice of you to make the offer.

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when you thought the $4 a quart the bootlegger of prohibition days charged for liquor was robbery?

Now a strike of workers in the meat-packing industry is threatened. Anything to make it a little tougher on the kitchen.

Life is getting to be pretty circumscribed. A man can't even call a rattlesnake his own. Ralph Butler, a New York man, had a six foot rattler that was his closest friend and pet. He kept it in his apartment where he found it quite companionable and, in many ways, far ahead of humans he knew. But there were complaints. And a court has taken the viper away.

* * *

We sympathize with Mr. Butler . . . Personally, we wouldn't want a rattler within ten miles of us, although they often get much closer. But if a man cottons to them and finds they can be trusted, is it fair to part them? Is it fair to the man? Is it fair to the rattler?

We pause for a reply. Not getting any, we hold that it is pretty tough to force Butler to go out and find his rattlesnakes in politics and social life like the rest of us.

Handling Hooton

In behalf of skinny men, we take exception to Harvard's Professor Ernest A. Hooton's slurs on our merit as husbands. He told a public audience recently that fat men make better husbands because they are even-tempered, relaxed and easier to housebreak. That is, they can be coaxed to do what their wives think they should do.

This Harvard fellow puts skinny men in the same boat with he-men, who are the worst kind of husbands, he says. He-men grow old quickly, pace the floor, feel the need for more exercise and do not respond favorably to domestic confinement. String beans, he says, don't get along well with other people, suffer from chronic fatigue and are bundles of inhibitions.

If you can't get a butterball, the professor advises husband snaggers, come as close as you can. At least get a husband halfway between a fat man and a thin man—one that has his bad points as a stringbean offset by his good points as a tub of lard. Hooton probably said more, but that's enough. He'd better learn something about skinny husbands.

Skinny husbands are ideal. They are proud of their trim figures and flat stomachs. They take delight in their agility and show off by leaping from chair to chair and taunting the huskiness trying to golf them into unconsciousness with a broom. This keeps her figure trim too and gives her something to combat the boredom which overtakes wives with fat, complacent husbands.

A thin spouse is handier to have around. He can be tied on a rope and let down into floor registers to fish out marbles and coins. He doesn't break as many stepladders and when it is necessary for him to clean wallpaper he doesn't huff and puff. Admittedly, he complains of being tired, due to his metabolic rate, but who wants a husband that jumps around like a cricket all the time?

A thin husband's clothes never have to be let out. He doesn't overtax the seams of his suits. Having no reason to worry about eating too much he eats whatever he is confronted with, which makes cookery easy. He takes up very little room, and no one will call the humane society if he is ordered to sleep on the cot while his wife's relatives are in town. He is easy on shoes, and it is almost unheard of for him to get mixed up in emotional triangles, because no other woman would look at him.

He is easy to ignore, which is more than can be said for a fat man—or even for a he-man. And thin men don't mind being ignored. They are used to it. It is all they ask of life, that the kind of people who go around noticing fat men, he-men, in-between men and thin men should just keep their mouths shut and get into a good brisk game of flinch with a couple other dead bodies instead. This handles Hooton, who should have asked some skinny men what kind of husbands they are before popping off. Skinny men make ideal husbands. Don't we, Slats?

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

STEEL MILLS are working day and night. Steel production is setting peacetime records. This is good news for you.

In one way or another steel helps make almost everything you use — cars, washing machines, refrigerators and countless other things.

By pushing its production to record-breaking volume, the steel industry is helping hundreds of other industries get going.

However, the mills are not yet able to supply the full demand for steel. This is largely due to the loss of 12,000,000 tons of steel production this year from strikes in steel, coal and other industries.

The mills are trying hard to make up the lost output. If the present production pace can be continued, there should be enough steel for normal needs before many months are past.

STOCK MARKET GOES INTO FURTHER SLUMP

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 — The stock market registered its deepest today after a nearly abortive recovery attempt met with great response.

Light selling throughout it again was blamed mainly on the threat of an industrial nationwide coal strike. Further adjustment of accounts for income tax purposes also was a factor in the general unsettlement.

Steels, motors, rubbers and rails led the retreat after a slightly irregular opening. Declines, however, never attained any real momentum and extreme setbacks ranging to 2 or more points were reduced in good part near the fourth hour.

American Telephone slipped to another new 1946 low. On the offside were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, Kenne cott, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Gypsum.

probable by failure to stay within contractual limitations.

Since more gas is being used than in pre-war years, Buddruss said curtailment of service would be necessary on the basis of his company's present capacity.

The commission is considering a proposal to increase the pipeline capacity by 90 million cubic feet a day but this could not be done in time to help the situation this winter.

Reflecting the attitude of other wholesalers, Henry A. Montgomery, council for the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., declared the prospective shortage resulted from Panhandle's distribution methods. He said Panhandle had "oversold" fuel to new purchasers to the disadvantage of old customers.

2 KILLED; 18 MADE HOMELESS BY FIRE

By The Associated Press

ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 18—A Red Cross relief worker was preparing here today from Alexandria, Va., to assist 18 families made homeless yesterday by a fire which caused the death of two persons and destroyed two apartment buildings and two nearby houses.

Housing and feeding was being provided temporarily in the Salvation Army headquarters for the 71 persons displaced by the flames, the Ashland Red Cross announced.

Fire Chief Burns Henley identified the dead as Arthur Henry Bolton, 67, a house painter, and Mrs. Hilma Hall Boggs, 32.

George S. Kimbler, owner of one of the two-story frame apartment buildings, said Bolton and Mrs. Boggs apparently were trapped in their sleep by the flames, which broke out before dawn from an undetermined origin.

A five-months-old baby girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, was tossed to safety by her father from the second floor into the arms of Ed Johnson her uncle.

Mrs. Katherine Boetic, 16-year-old sister of Mrs. Johnson and wife of a navy man in service, was burned and cut in jumping to the ground.

Kimbler estimated his loss at $60,000, but there was no overall estimate of the damage, which included virtually all the clothing, furniture and other household effects of the occupants. Henley said the fire was beyond control before firemen arrived.

Fight with Lewis Adds Militant Note To Truman Holiday

By The Associated Press

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 18—President Truman's decision to face a showdown with John L. Lewis added a militant note today to the Chief Executive's Florida vacation.

His order to subordinates to fight it out with the chief of the United Mine Workers was cited by close associates here as the reason for his happy, carefree air.

The President, immediately after his arrival here by plane from Washington yesterday, put on a slack suit and began a trip around the U. S. naval submarine base, chatting with reporters. Obviously, the President was unworried over the crisis in the coal fields.

The President so far has no set program during his week's stay here. Ross said he "may or may not go fishing now and then—he will if the spirit moves him."

He is expected to spend much of the time resting and recovering from a cold contracted on his recent visit to his home in Missouri to vote in the general election.

* * *

1. Posted notices at all mines appealing to the miners to stick at their jobs, despite Lewis, and pledging to "keep the mines open regardless of any action" by the union boss.

2. "Froze" coal stocks in dealers' hands and instituted rationing of deliveries. The regulations permit deliveries to public utilities, railroads, laundries, hospitals, food processing plants and refrigeration plants, tugboats and domestic consumers having less than a 10 days supply.

Explore Legal Action

In addition, justice department attorneys were reported to be exploring possible legal action against Lewis and his United Mine Workers (AFL) in event of a strike. Attorney General Clark spent Sunday morning working in his office.

The Smith-Connally act makes it a criminal offense to incite or encourage a strike in government-seized mines or plants.

President Truman was saying nothing publicly. But at Key West, Fla., intimates of the vacationing Chief Executive reported he is determined to "fight this one out to the finish."

He was said to have delegated strategy to Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug before leaving Washington.

Lewis Remains Silent

Lewis withheld comment. The 66-year-old mine union chief has declared his union's contract with the government "terminated" effective at midnight Wednesday, despite Clark's ruling that the pact is binding so long as the government holds the 3,300 soft coal mines it seized last May to end a strike.

The notices posted at the mines and handbills the government directed mine managers to distribute to miners said in bold black letters over the signature of Krug:

"Notice: To all members of the United Mine Workers of America—

"This mine is in government possession and will remain open. Your contract with the government remains effective, as it very plainly says, for 'the period of government possession.' The government and all the people of the country expect the miners to honor their contract and to mine the coal which the nation needs."

Test of Loyalty

This action pitted the loyalty of the miners to the government against their loyalty to Lewis, who has led them in many a prior battle for contract improvements.

The solid fuels administration, one of Krug's agencies, watched the coal fields today to see if there were any signs of reaction from the flurry of government moves.

At Milburn, W. Va., officers of a UMW local said they had telegraphed Lewis that the appeals for work "will fall on deaf ears."

So far the public has not been informed of Lewis' specific demands, except that publication of some correspondence between Lewis and Krug showed the union leader asked for a reduction from the present scheduled 54-hour work week.

Mackenzie Says Britain Hasn't Gone Red Yet

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The revolt of the left-wing Laborites in the British house of commons against their Labor (Socialist) government's foreign policy, which is having an airing today, undoubtedly owes some of its impetus to Communistic influence, but we shouldn't make the mistake of thinking that this is a Red rebellion. British Socialism isn't red. Indeed, the Labor party has banned Communism. There are comparatively few Communists in the British Isles, and there are only two in commons. However, they are like a handful of yeast in a beer-vat — they cause ferment. In the present instances they are very active, following up the firm's cardinal policy of divide-and-rule, that is, causing a split in a party or organization and then profiting by the division.

DewittMackenzie

What the sixty-odd left-wing Socialists profess to fear is that Britain, by paralleling America's foreign policy in many particulars, may become involved in war with Russia. Their supposition is that the capitalistic United States is headed for trouble with the Soviet Union. They want John Bull to cut loose from Uncle Sam and, as they put it, proceed along Socialistic lines tied neither to American "free enterprise" nor Soviet Communism.

Risky Venture

Well, that's a risky venture because if there should be another conflict (which heaven forbid) then John Bull is going to be in it up to his neck right from the start, and now is the time to decide on which side his bread is buttered. Thus far Prime Minister Attlee has continued to hew sturdily to his chosen policy, and it will take more than the present revolt to make him change his mind.

If the left-wingers could insure Britain's neutrality in another major conflict by the expedient of proceeding along lines not tied to the policies of any other great power, then they would indeed have a strong argument for their thesis. But there isn't a breath of hope that England could escape involvement. If there's another war between any two great powers, the rest will be in it, for it will develop quickly into a global affair.

Don't Love Russia

It's safe to say that, apart from perhaps a very few radical Socialists, the British rebels aren't impelled by love of Communistic Russia. The English Socialist believes in nationalization of industry, but like all other Britons he abhors the idea of totalitarian dictatorship for which the Red ism stands. John Bull is a very independent individual.

If it were otherwise, Communism would have made headway in England long ago, for the Red tide has hammered incessantly at Britain's political dykes ever since the Bolshevist revolution of 1917.

The Bolshevists spent large sums in propaganda and it was common report that they even sold some of the Czarist crown jewels to secure funds to carry on the campaign in England. Because of this campaign, relations between the two countries were in the main badly strained until 1934.

So, there is no reason for attaching undue significance to the revolt in commons. It doesn't mean that the Labor party is leaning towards Communism.

G.O.P. Urged To Dissolve Un-American Committee

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Dissolution of the house committee on un-American activities was urged on Republican leaders today by a group of Protestant clergymen and church leaders who say the committee uses "Nazi technique."

Dr. Guy Emery Shipler, editor of "The Churchman" announced yesterday the group had signed a telegram sent to Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) urging him, as a "Republican leader," to "ask the Republican national committee to repudiate and to recommend to congress the dissolution of the house committee."

The churchmen said the committee had been "operating as a propaganda agency which utilizes the Nazi technique of labeling democratic persons, groups and programs as 'Communist'."

2 HELD IN DEATH OF ELECTION WORKER

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Joey Rao, 45, and Michael (Trigger Mike) Coppola, 46, ex-convicts, were in city prison today in lieu of $250,000 bail each, as material witnesses in the fatal beating on election day of Joseph Scottoreggio, Republican election worker.

The two, described by assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet as Harlem underworld characters, were arrested Saturday night and were held in the unusually high bail yesterday by Judge James G. Wallace after Grumet said the men planned to leave the city.

Grumet said Rao declared he was unemployed and Coppola said he was a gambler. Both were known as gangland "big shots" in the prohibition era and were seen often in the company of gang leaders such as Vincent "Mad Dog" Coll and Arthur "Dutch Schultz" Flegenheimer. In 1933, Coppola was arrested in a penthouse in the company of Louis "Lepke" Buchalter.

Two other men arrested as material witnesses, William Dongay, 32, and Dominick Petrone, 41, an American Labor party captain, were also in city prison in default of $20,000 bail each.

Scottoreggio, 45, died last Monday of injuries suffered in the beating received as he walked to his polling place on election day. He had been a campaign worker for Frederick V. P. Bryan, Republican, who ran unsuccessfully against Rep. Vito Marcantonio (D-ALP) in the 18th district.

CLEVELAND PREPARES GRADUAL SHUTDOWN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18—Some Cleveland industries dependent upon coal prepared today to shut down gradually as a result of government control of stockpiles in anticipation of a strike by United Mine Workers at midnight Wednesday.

Howard A. Smith, distribution manager for the solid fuels administration in Ohio and the West Virginia panhandle, said non-essential industries will be allowed enough fuel to process production already under way, but will not be permitted to start new production.

He added that SFA's orders will be administered primarily for public well-being with a minimum of damage to industries deprived of coal supplies. Home owners were able to have coal delivered today, Smith said, if they certified they had less than a 10-day supply on hand.

COMMUNIST FRENCH PRESIDENT PROPOSED

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Nov. 18—French Socialists weighed today a Communist proposal for a leftist united front that would give the new Fourth Republic the first Communist president in France's history.

They agreed to give the idea a hearing after a meeting of the Socialist national council yesterday, just a week after the party took heavy losses in the election of the powerful national assembly. The council decided to vote on the question in two weeks.

The election gave the Communists 180 and the Socialists 101 of the assembly's 618 seats. Other leftists might command 63. The Centrist Popular Republican (MRP) movement got 162 and rightist parties 85. The assembly and the council of the republic yet to be chosen, will meet Dec. 24 to elect the president.

In a letter read to the Socialist council, Jacques Duclos, Communist party secretary, suggested the two working-class parties pool their assembly votes in support of a "Democratic Union" government under a Communist president. He urged appointment of a Socialist delegation to talk united action with a Communist group.

In reply, the Socialist council by unanimous resolution recognized the Communists' right to take the lead in forming a government, asked an explicit statement of the Communist program and authorized the Socialist leadership to gather facts and plan another council meeting in two weeks for a decision on the Communist proposal.

KANSAS CITY GIRL STILL SAYS SHE DROWNED BOY

Parents of Cripple, Police Doubt Story.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18—Seventeen-year-old Frances Wanstreet, Police Lt. L. E. Wyatt reported today, clung to her assertion that she shoved eight-year-old Ross Key Jr. into a river and watched him drown, but parents of both children expressed disbelief in her story.

The boy, crippled from infantile paralysis, has been missing since Nov. 4. Last Friday the girl told police she pushed the boy in the Blue river because he teased her.

Expressing belief in her daughter's innocence, Mrs. Ivan Wanstreet said:

"I feel like she's had a dream or something so strong that she believes she did it. I hope and pray they find the boy."

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Key Sr., who watched searchers dragging the river unsuccessfully yesterday said they did not believe the girl's story.

The girl is being held for investigation without charges.

RECORD CROWD SEES CLEVELAND AIR SHOW

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18 — The National Aircraft Show ranked with major sports events today as a crowd pleaser.

By official count, 47,572 persons paraded the show yesterday to establish a new Cleveland record for an industry event. Among the visitors were 9,000 Northern Ohio newsboys who rushed through the doors at opening time and found many exhibits unattended.

"Inside of three minutes, the cockpit of every plane on the floor was filled with boys," said one observer. Show officials rapidly rounded up all available personnel, but not soon enough to keep the carriers from acquiring a few small souvenirs.

In connection with the program, First Lt. Arthur Murray averaged 450 miles an hour in a jet-plane speed dash over an 810-mile course from the show to Evansville, Ind., and back. Other air force pilots will fly the same course in P-80s each day through Thursday in an attempt to better Murray's time of one hour and 48 minutes.

ENGINEER KILLED AS LOCOMOTIVES DERAIL

By The Associated Press

NEWBURG, W. Va., Nov. 18—Three locomotives pulling the Diplomat, one of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's fast east-west trains, were derailed near this mountain town early today, and one of the engineers lost his life.

The accident occurred at 5:45 a. m. as the big diesel and two helper engines were pulling the 12-car train through the West Virginia mountains.

R. E. Knight, 50, of Grafton, W. Va., engineer on the second helper, was killed when the giant diesel apparently plunged against his locomotive.

A railroad spokesman said the baggage car left the rails, along with the club car, but none of the eight passenger cars was derailed and no passengers or other crew members were injured.

Vandal Damages Ohio Art Museum Painting

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 18—A vandal has damaged the $3,000 painting, "The Birth of Venus," at the Toledo Museum of Art, it was learned today.

A hole has been torn in the canvas near the breast of the nude figure of Venus in the art study, part of the spirit of modern France exhibit at the museum.

The galleries were closed temporarily while an unsuccessful search for the person responsible was made.

The painting, a work of Alexander Cabanel and dated 1875, is the property of the Metropolitan Museum of New York. Blade-More Godwin, Toledo museum director, who placed the $3,000 valuation on the art work, said it had not been damaged beyond successful repair.

MISS HELEN BENNER

Radio Artists To Appear at Trinity Church Wednesday Night.

Plans are being completed to bring to Marion Wednesday night a trio of radio artists connected with Veteran Hospital programs for an appearance at Trinity Baptist church.

The party includes Richard Maxwell, featured singer in the program of sacred music which will be given at the church at 8 o'clock, Miss Helen Benner, mezzo-contralto, who will sing, and Pat B. Withrow Jr., national director of Veterans Hospital programs. The veterans' programs organization was formed "to take clean entertainment into the hospitals as well as present bedside radios to the wounded men." Besides the singing, there are stories by Mr. Withrow of his experiences in army camps, and naval bases and hospitals during the last five years. The national committee for the programs is composed of outstanding religious leaders and laymen.

Mr. Maxwell, the "John" of Seth Parker programs, has been heard in his own CBS program, "Songs of Cheer and Comfort," and over Mutual network in "Hymns You Love." During the war, he devoted his time to Army and Navy camp entertainment throughout this country.

Miss Benner has been soloist on programs including "Alec Templeton Time," "Hymns of All Churches," "Pageant of Melody," and others, and has appeared as guest soloist over all major networks. In her local appearance, her songs will include "He Shall Feed His Flock," from Handel's Messiah; "Angelus," Victor Herbert; and "I Just Keep Living Along." She has suspended her work in radio to assist Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Withrow in their program for the disabled servicemen.

Mr. Withrow will conduct the program which is open to the public, with no admission charge, it was announced.

STEELMAKING SCRAP GOES UP $5 A TON

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18—Steelmaking scrap advanced $5 a ton last week, reaching $24.17, after prices were decontrolled, the magazine Steel said today. The average composite price for finished steel held unchanged at $64.45, semi-finished steel remained at $40.60, and steelmaking pig iron was unchanged at $27.50.

Officials of several of the larger integrated steel companies issued statements to the effect they were planning "no general increases in steel prices at this time," but some of the smaller concerns asserted the advance in scrap cannot be absorbed because costs were high before last week's increase.

"What the more distant future holds," Steel said, "will depend largely upon the trend in labor costs and in prices of raw materials, notably coal, scrap and pig iron. Hence, the outcome of the soft coal negotiations is being watched with special interest."

The magazine said it was uncertain when prices would begin to level off and become stabilized, due to the approaching winter and low consumers' inventories, but predicted strength in scrap prices should continue through the spring.

Scrap sellers are reluctant to commit themselves on much tonnage because of the possibility of still higher prices, the magazine said. There is little prospect of a change in pig iron prices, Steel said, until the coal miners' negotiations are settled, if then.

DAYTON BOMBERS SMASH MARION CABBIES 25 TO 0

Locals Hamstrung by Weather And Absence of Eight Players

By GEORGE ROEST

Playing under trying conditions, namely cold weather and a muddy field, the Marion Safety Cab Athletic club football team dropped their return engagement to the powerful Dayton Bombers, 25 to 0, at Dayton before a small, but enthusiastic, crowd of Dayton fans yesterday afternoon.

Marion also was handicapped by the fact that eight of their players were unable to make the trip because of various reasons. They were Bob Higgins, Nick Cafagno, Howard Richardson, Ned Samples, Charles Lust, Bob Bull, Lester Russel and Martin Lewis.

Threw the Book

Marion threw practically all the plays they had at Dayton, threatening twice in the first quarter when Simmons threw passes to Roseberry for long gains deep into Dayton territory. After that it was the Bombers who turned on, scoring twice in the second quarter and once in each remaining period.

Also, as predicted, members of the Cincinnati Dakotas were on hand to scout the Cabbies to have some idea of what to expect from the Marion club Wednesday night when the teams meet at the Harding stadium. This will be a player benefit, all proceeds going to the Safety Cab players.

After a first quarter, which saw Marion holding an advantage, Crowe, Dayton substitute back, intercepted a pass thrown by Ruhl and distanced every one on the field going approximately 55 yards to score. Regular right half Garrett made the first and only point on a placement.

Dayton Scores Again

Dayton scored again in the same period when Rice broke away on the Marion 30 and went to pay dirt.

Crowe, who can be remembered for his 70 yard run against Marion which was nullified by a penalty, again broke into the scoring column in the third quarter on a dash of 45 yards.

Fullback Yarber scored a final touchdown in the last frame, plowing through the mud for 25 yards.

Statistically speaking, Dayton made eight first downs against six for Marion. Dayton picked up 130 yards from scrimmage, losing 15 yards while Marion picked up 35 yards, losing the same number. In the air Dayton was unable to make anything while Marion aerials were good for 70 yards.

Line-ups:

Marion		Dayton
Roseberry	LE	Melvon
Griffith	LT	Dunson
Strobel	LG	Taylor
Benson	C	Wright
Obenour	RG	Kelly
Fate	RT	Woods
Gilmore	RE	Hughes
Simmons	QB	Crosby
Belknap	LH	Rice
Williams	RH	Garrett
Harvey	FB	Yarber

Scoring: Dayton touchdowns, Crowe 2, Rice 1, and Yarber 1; extra points, Garrett.

Subs: Marion backs, Greenwood, Ruhl and Slatzer; linemen, Smith, Freese, Cochral, and Montgomery.

Dayton subs: Ivey, Garden, Crowe, Wainwright, and Beavers.

Snatches of Sports

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Carnegie Tech is reviving its Steffen Memorial scholarship fund to give deserving football players a break. New York U. students are agitating for more convenient classroom schedules and other aids for athletes. Oklahoma City U. campaigned for more dough for football with rather gratifying results and now Iowa State colleges comes up with a student "club" with the aim of improving its athletic satire . . . The whole situation becomes slightly confusing when conference leaders, athletic directors and facilities are making strenuous efforts to control commercialism and give the ordinary students a chance on the teams and those same students start to supervise scouting trips, for a scholarship fund "to be awarded for outstanding achievements in athletics" and similar features. Wonder what's the next move?

Under and Over

Jim Haughton, Villanova publicitor, relates one of the season's saddest tales concerning that 109-yard run Bob Polidor made against the U. of Miami . . . Seems one spectator was slightly affected by firewater and right behind him a girl, bothered by slightly less fiery warmth, sat with her coat on her lap . . . When Polidor started from the end zone, the gal jumped up excitedly. Her coat landed on the head of the previously mentioned gent . . . It was a great fight, Ma, and the fellow finally battled his way out from under the coat just after Polidor crossed the goal line.

Only If He Loses

After C. M. Saunders, the Toledo horseman, had paid $21,000 for Egan Hanover at the recent Harrisburg, Pa. harness horse sales, he proudly escorted Mrs. Saunders to the colt's stall to show off his purchase . . . As they stood there, an expensively clad woman glanced into the stall and remarked in shrill tones: "Paying $21,000 for a horse. I'll bet his wife will shoot him."

CHICAGO BEARS LEAD NATIONAL PRO LOOP

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—The Chicago Bears are a step closer to the National Football league's Western division championship today while the Eastern sector remains a three-way battle for the top honors with the New York Giants in the van.

Sid Luckman kept the Bears a game and a half in front of the Green Bay Packers, who downed the Detroit Lions, 9-0, by tossing a touchdown pass in the final minutes of play yesterday to give the Bears a 24-20 victory over the Washington Redskins.

At Detroit Fullback Ted Fritsch enabled the Packers to hold on to second place by scoring all of his team's points in their victory over the Lions. Fritsch kicked a 15-yard field goal in the third session and crashed over from the six-inch line in the final quarter.

Despite their loss to the Bears, Washington is only a half game behind runner-up Pittsburgh and a game back of the Giants. Pittsburgh nicked the Philadelphia Eagles, 10-7 before its fifth home sellout, 38,682 fans while the Giants battled the Boston Yanks to a 28-28 tie at the Polo grounds. Bill Dudley's 14-yard field goal in the final 40 seconds enabled Pittsburgh to win. The Yanks scored twice in the last period to tie the Giants.

The defending champion Los Angeles Rams rallied to defeat the Chicago Cardinals, 17-14 at Los Angeles. Bob Waterfield thrilled 38,271 fans when he hurled a game-winning 28-yard scoring pass to Steve Pritko in the final two minutes.

Cleveland Pro Cagers Bow to Chicago 78-76

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18 — Despite Mel Riebe's spectacular scoring spree which netted them 31 points, the Cleveland Rebels bowed to the Chicago Stags, 78 to 76, last night for their second straight loss in the Basketball Association of America.

Riebe, top scorer among the professionals before entering the Navy, hit the hoops for 13 field goals and five free throws, but his performance was offset by Chicago's Chuck Halbert and Slats Zaslofsky who accounted for 42 points between them.

Cleveland trailed by a single goal at halftime, 37-35, but fell 10 points behind by the opening of the hectic fourth period. The Rebels absorbed their first defeat in an overtime game at St. Louis last Saturday.

2ND UNBEATEN SEASON

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18—Purcell High school's Cavaliers completed their second unbeaten season and ran their victory string to 29 straight games yesterday by defeating St. Xavier Bonbers, 7-6 before 12,000.

TWO-YARD OHIO GAIN. Ohio State Fullback Joe Whisler (36 with ball) bucks through the Illinois line for a short gain in the first quarter of game at Champaign, Ill., with a mob of linemen stopping him. No. 64 is Guard Bob Cunz, Ill.; No. 63 (right) is Guard Bob Gaudio, Ohio State. Illinois won 16 to 7.

Cincinnati Unknown Kicks 4 Placements In Game Saturday

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18—There's an extra success story in the last line of the summaries of the University of Cincinnati-Western Reserve game here Saturday, won by U. C. 34-7.

It read: "Points after touchdown—Sarsfield 4 (placements)."

The booter was Johnny Sarsfield, 160-pound sophomore from Indianapolis. His name wasn't even on the program.

But it was heard many times today on the Bearcat campus and seldom without mention also of freshman Johnny Hogan, fourth string quarterback from Cincinnati who weighs in at 133 pounds soaking wet.

Less than two weeks ago, Carl Brumbaugh, ex-Chicago Bear who coaches the U. C. backfield, spotted Sarsfield kicking placements in an inter-fraternity touch football game. Pleased with what he saw, he invited the Hoosier to report to the varsity.

The two Johnnys were assigned together to practice the art of putting a football over the crossbar—Sarsfield kicking, Hogan holding.

They trotted out on the field five times Saturday. The first kick was wide by inches but there wasn't any question about the last four.

The fellow at Saturday's game who probably had one deuce of a time controlling his emotions was Johnny Hogan Sr.

He was the referee.

OSL Nominates Detroit President for Minor League Boss if Bramham Retires.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18—Ohio State baseball league directors meeting here last night, indorsed George M. Trautman, (former Bucyrus resident) executive vice president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers, for minor commissioner.

The class D league's endorsement was contingent upon the possible retirement of Judge W. G. Bramham.

Robert Ireland of Springfield was reelected last summer as president-secretary-treasurer for a three-year-term.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen and Forest Coss of the local baseball club attended the meeting where aspects of the major-minor league agreement were discussed. Uniform player contracts and salary limitations were also aired.

Reds Pass Halfway Mark in Program To Rebuild Farms

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18—The Cincinnati Reds have passed the halfway mark in their program to rebuild farm interests which depreciated as minor leagues folded up during the war.

Newest member of the Reds' farm system is Lockport, N. Y., of the class D Pony league. Signing a working agreement with the class D club brought to six the number of minor league outfits with which the Reds cooperate or own outright.

Columbia, S. C., of the class AA Sally league and Ogden, Utah, of the class D Pioneer circuit, are property of Cincinnati, which also has working agreements with Syracuse of the AAA International league, Providence, R. I. of the B New England league and Middletown of the Ohio State league.

Warren C. Giles, general manager of the Reds, said the club probably would arrange working agreement with "a couple more" minor league clubs before start of the 1947 season and added he hoped to expand the farm system to 11 clubs—the prewar peak—but chief difficulty right now was "finding the players to stock them."

St. Mary Cagers Begin Practice for 20 Game Season Opening Dec. 3 at Bucyrus

St. Mary's cagers went into practice last week for their opening game at Bucyrus, Tuesday, Dec. 3. They have been working out at the YMCA and there are 22 men out for the squad, two of them having been letter winners last year. They are Dick Schuler and Pat Bray.

Also, Bob Stuber played at Jackson, Ohio, last year, winning his monogram there and is expected to prove to be a capable guard. Schuler and Bray were forwards last year, but Bray will be switched to center this season.

Fetter To Coach

They will be coached by Gene Fetter who also mentored the football squad this season. Fetter, only 24, is not new to the profession. He coached the St. Mary basketball squad throughout most of the 1942 and 1943 seasons, being called to the Army in February, 1943.

While in service, his football teams were undefeated and his Thomasville, Ga., Army Air Field basketball team was runner up in the service tournament held at Tampa, Fla., in February of 1945. This game had the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game in Tampa and General Thomas W. Blackburn presented the runner up trophy.

Officially the St. Mary practice will open this afternoon at the Y but the team did work out last week and this week will really get down to the business of preparing for Bucyrus.

Players Listed

The players who reported for practice are Walter Anderson, Lyan Huber, Dick Schuler, Dan Drake, John Granger, John Baldauf, Gene Norris, Jim Maloney, Bob Pruzzo, Bob Armbuster, Paul Cusick, Kevin Krigbaum, Richard Tarantelli, Dick Jenner, Frank Klaus, Dan Smith, Pat Bray, Bob Burke, Dick Weis, Bob Cusick and Paul Bray.

St. Mary will play 20 games this season, seven at home.

The St. Mary schedule will be: Dec. 3, Bucyrus, away; Dec. 7, Columbus Rosary, here; Dec. 10, Marysville, here; Dec. 20, Sunbury, there; Dec. 27, Lima St. Gerard, there; Dec. 28, Pleasant, there; Jan. 3, Harpster, there; Jan. 10, Mt. Akron Bears Need Only One Win To Clinch Title

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Nov. 18—The Akron Bears need only one more victory in two remaining games to clinch the Western division title of the Professional American Football league.

A farm club of the Chicago Bears, the Akron club downed the Wilmington, Del., Clippers, 20 to 0 yesterday in a game delayed two hours when the visitors' plane was grounded enroute.

The Bears did all of their scoring in the second half, Floyd Wheeler going over on a pass play in the third period and George Seith and John Popovich tallying in the fourth quarter.

Silver Street Boys Whip Pearl 44 to 7 To Win City Title

Silver Street romped over Pearl Street 44 to 7 last Saturday afternoon, at the stadium, to become the city touch football champs. A crowd, including some adults was on hand for the tilt and cheer leaders from Pearl Street gave the game some of the color to be found in the football games held by junior high and high school school football teams.

Scott, one of the outstanding players developed in grade school competition, figured in all of the Silver Street touchdown plays, except the first, running over for three touchdowns and tossing two pay-off passes.

Roberts made the first Silver Street score, running back the kickoff 40 yards. Scott then turned on, throwing a pass to Watts in the first and second quarter for tallies.

Also in the second quarter he faded back to pass, faked with uncanny deception, and scooted 20 yards to score.

In the third and last quarter he reeled off runs of 30 and 13 yards to boost the Silver Street total. He also figured in the point after scoring, tossing passes to Watts and Donahue in the first and second quarter.

Pearl Street was able to save itself from a complete white washing by scoring in the third quarter on a pass from Taylor to Lister, making their point in like fashion.

HERSHEY BEARS TOP EAST'S HOCKEY LOOP

By The Associated Press

The Hershey Bears led the American Hockey league's Eastern division by five points today while the Pittsburgh Hornets and the Cleveland Barons are tied for the Western division top rung with the Indianapolis Capitals only a point behind them.

Hershey picked up four points over the past weekend by blanking runner-up New Haven 3-0 Saturday and trimming Providence 4-1 last night.

Pittsburgh also racked up four points, nosing out St. Louis 6-5 and downing Buffalo 4-2.

Cleveland missed an opportunity to go out in front by bowing 7-4 to St. Louis after beating Buffalo 6-3 Saturday. The Flyers tallied three times within the first five minutes and coasted the rest of the way.

Indianapolis played Springfield to a 2-2 tie Saturday and dropped an 8-4 game to the Ramblers yesterday; and Philadelphia played Providence to a 4-4 tie Saturday and was idle along with Springfield yesterday.

College Football Season To Reach Dramatic Peak Saturday

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Like a well-staged mystery play which saves its climax for the final act, a college football season that has kept everybody guessing since early September will reach a dramatic peak this week-end.

The Big Nine and Pacific coast conferences will crown their champions before Saturday's sun goes down and officials of the two leagues probably will have decided by then whether to match the winners in the Rose Bowl.

Performances this week will go a long way toward determining which teams will appear in the remaining bowl games on New Year's day.

Army Rests

Army, which followed its scoreless tie with Notre Dame by clipping Pennsylvania, 36-7, rests this week for its Nov. 30 finale with Navy. The Cadets are itching for a Rose Bowl bid and academy officials appear willing to accept one.

But the Big Nine has voted to send its champ to the Rose Bowl, and the Pacific Coast loop must decide who gets the nod.

The west team for the Rose Bowl will emerge from Saturday's important struggle between Southern California and U. C. L. A. All-victorious U. C. L. A., which swamped Montana 61-7 for its eighth straight win, can grab both the Pacific Coast title and the Pasadena plum by beating the Trojans.

Illinois Almost In

Illinois, which blasted Ohio State's title hopes Saturday, 16-7, can wrap up the Big Nine flag this week at Northwestern whose 27-0 licking by Notre Dame kept the Irish abreast of Army in the race for the mythical national championship.

Michigan stayed in the running by knocking off Wisconsin, 28-6, and if Illinois should falter the Wolverines could take the title by winning at Ohio State. The remainder of the Big Nine windup will find Minnesota, 16-6 conqueror of Iowa, at Wisconsin and Indiana at Purdue.

Big Six teams have come down to the wire with four tied for the lead. Oklahoma, which turned back Missouri, 27-6, entertains Nebraska, 33-0 winner over Iowa State, this week with the winner clinching a tie for the crown. Kansas, which crushed Kansas State, 34-0, plays Missouri for the other half of the title on Thanksgiving day.

Harvard vs. Yale

Harvard, which blanked Brown, 28-0, and Yale, 30-2 victor over Princeton, will try to settle the Ivy league race Saturday at Cambridge.

Georgia, which shares honors with U. C. L. A. as the only all-victorious major teams, and Georgia Tech, which walloped Tulane 35-7, for its seventh straight win, warm up against lightly-regarded opponents in preparation for their Dixie classic the following Saturday.

Tennessee, tied with Georgia for the Southeastern conference lead, will be invaded by Kentucky, which stopped West Virginia, 13-0, and Mississippi State will be at Mississippi for loop contests while Tulane has the dubious honor of entertaining Notre Dame.

N. C. Leads Loop

North Carolina took over the top spot in the Southern conference by whipping Wake Forest, 26-14, and can sew up the championship this week by turning back Duke, 39-0 winner over South Carolina.

Arkansas assured itself of at least a tie for the Southwest conference crown by stopping Southern Methodist, 13-0, and probably will be the host team in the Cotton Bowl since it has defeated Rice. Texas Christian knocked Texas out of a possible title tie, 14-0, and could do the same to Rice by winning Saturday at Houston. Southern Methodist will be at Baylor for another conference game.

Cleveland vs. New York Likely In All-America Grid Playoff

Yankees Cinch Eastern Title; Browns Subdue Chicago 51-14 as Groza Kicks 51-Yard Field Goal.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 18 — Cleveland vs New York for the All-America Football Conference championship — that looks like the setup as the brand new loop approaches the end of its first campaign.

The New Yorkers, beaten only twice in 11 starts—both times by the Browns—clinched the Eastern division laurels yesterday with a 10-9 win over the San Francisco 49'ers, but the Clevelanders, with nine wins in 11 tries, still have a chore to do before wrapping up the Western sectional title that leads to the playoff.

Los Angeles, 19-14 winner over Brooklyn yesterday, has a chance to nose out the Browns by winning its last four games if the Clevelanders drop their last three.

But the Browns, boasting the best scoring record (281 points) and the best defense record (106 points) in the league, were odds-on choices to romp off with the Western championship.

The Clevelanders put on one of their finest shows yesterday before 60,457 fans at the Lakeside Stadium as they smothered the Chicago Rockets under a 51 to 14 score. That's the highest total run up by an All-America loop team this year, and Otto Graham, former Northwestern All-America, tossed four touchdown passes to clinch the verdict.

Big Lou Groza of Martins Ferry, spurred by the presence of a thousand home town fans who presented him with a watch, had a field day as he ran his league-leading scoring total to 61 points with a 51-yard field goal and six points after touchdown. His mammoth placekick, longest ever booted in the loop, gave him 10 for the season to tie the all-time professional record.

The attendance, too, boosted the Browns into an all-time pro record for a season. In 11 league games the Browns have drawn 544,000 fans to eclipse the 521,000 which the Green Bay Packers attracted to 13 contests, including exhibitions. The Browns are averaging around 54,000 per game at home. They meet Buffalo in the home finale next Sunday.

KRALL OUT AS BUCKS PREP FOR MICHIGAN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18—Ohio State buckles down today to prepare for Michigan, traditional football foe with Jerry Krall reserve left halfback, still out of action.

Coach Paul Bixler said yesterday the Toledo boy, injured two weeks ago in the Pittsburgh game, would not be ready for Saturday's game.

Three other Bucks, buffeted about in the Illinois game last Saturday, will be set for action against the Wolverines however. They are right halfback Alex Verdova, who received a bruised knee; right tackle Chuck Csuri with a similar injury, and center Tony Adamle with a gash above the eye.

The Buckeye mentor said practice this week would be the same as last week with contact work held to a minimum to avoid additional injuries.

Rose Bowl Parley To Be Heated

Big Nine Seen Willing To Let Army In as 2 Loops Meet.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18—Apparently intent upon writing a new chapter or two in Rose Bowl history, Pacific Coast Conference members from here and elsewhere along the seaboard—together with representatives of the Big Nine—began converging today on Berkeley for an unprecedented meeting.

Delegates from the local PCC members — UCLA and Southern California — were determined to play a leading role in any agreements reached. Their teams tangle Saturday for the right to represent the conference in the Bowl Jan. 1. Both are agreed that Army should be the opponent.

In Chicago, it was learned that the Big Nine, which wants a five-year closed shop pact on the Pasadena classic, might not be averse to stepping aside in favor of Army this year. A five-man delegation including Commissioner K. L. Wilson, L. W. St. John, Ohio State athletic director, and Professors Ralph H. Aigler, Michigan; Karl E. Leib, Iowa, and Frank Richart, Illinois, left by plane last night.

General attitude of the PCC's California members appeared favorable toward adopting the Big Nine's proposal with modifications. But from out of the Northwest, which has six of the conference's 10 members, came a discordant note.

A poll by the Portland Oregonian indicated these schools would oppose a permanent Bowl alliance with the Western Conference (Big Nine) if it meant slamming the door to other institutions.

On one point, all seemed agreed tomorrow's meeting should be the hottest in conference annals. It also will be unique in that the entire conference will, in effect, be choosing the Eastern Bowl representative.

The choice heretofore has rested with the PCC's Rose Bowl committee of seven.

Synthetics From Acetylene Called Great Nazi Find

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND Nov. 18—Discovery of new methods for producing hundreds of synthetics from gas acetylene probably was the greatest achievement of German scientists during the Hitler regime, a Western Reserve university scientist reported today

Dr Oliver J Grummitt assistant professor of chemistry, whose recent visit to Germany was authorized by the office of technical services and knowledge gained from there and other new German processes may be equivalent to millions of dollars in preparations to allied nations

"Unlike the United States which produced many of its many synthetics from plastics, rubber and other organic chemical compounds from petroleum Germany had to get its from coal,' he declared in a statement issued by the university.

Dr Grummitt said American chemists had believed the use of acetylene—a coke and limestone derivative—as a raw material was limited because of its explosive nature when compressed

German scientists, particularly Dr Walter Reppe of I G Farben Industries, however, found ways of preventing explosions, he said

German methods of producing phthalic anhydride could alone save American industry several hundred thousand dollars annually, Dr. Grummitt added.

F W Rayburn was opposed to issuing the bonds because, he said, 'We would not get much for our money at the present"

County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin raised the question of the voters attitude toward future bond levies The tax rate has risen from $16 a thousand in 1945 to $23 a thousand this year, he said, Mr Uncapher pointed out that a $200,000 levy would only raise taxes $3 50 on a $5,000 .

U. S. BEGINS TRIAL OF PLUMBING INDUSTRY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov 18 — The government's six-year-old suits charging conspiracy to control the plumbing industry in violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws come to trial today after death and changed pleas have reduced the number of defendants from the original 102 to 79.

Indictments were returned March 20, 1940, against 12 of the nation's largest plumbing manufacturers, 11 jobbers, three trade associations, six jobber associations, the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Steamfitters of the United States and Canada, an AFL affiliate, nine of the union's locals, seven Master Plumbers' associations and 54 individuals connected with these organizations.

The indictments were the first covering a single industry on a nationwide basis and the first to name unions jointly with industry in conspiring to control the plumbing field, Defendants were accused of setting up a "restricted system of distribution' of plumbing supplies and of raising prices to consumers artificially.

A federal grand jury which returned the indictments was convened in 1938, heard hundreds of witnesses and inspected 30,000 exhibits. Scores of motions and other regal procedures followed the arraignment of the defendants, all of whom pleaded innocent

Then came the war, and because many of the plumbing concerns were engaged in war production, the government agreed to suspend prosecution for the duration.

Meanwhile, nine defendants died. Fourteen others changed their pleas to nono contendere and were fined a total of more than $30,000 by Federal Judge Robert Wilkin

Among the defendants who died was Walter J Kohler, former governor of Wisconsin and head of the Kohler Co Indicted with the Kohler concern were the Crane Co. and the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp., described by the government as the "big three," producing about 70 per cent of the industry's output.

Dead Airman's Hand Grips Plane's Controls

BURBANK, CALIF., Nov 18— A dead flyer's hand still grips the controls of the Western Air Lines plane which crashed Wednesday, with 11 persons aboard, against the snowy peak of White Mountain.

Ventura County Deputy Sheriff Dolney Cummings, leader of a group which yesterday made an unsuccessful effort to recover the bodies, reported finding five badly burned corpses inside the wreckage.

Because no attempt at identification was made, Cummings said, he was unable to determine whether the hand on the control was that of Capt. Garret Miller, 34, Van Nuys, pilot, or first officer Ted Mathis, 25, Whittier, copilot.

Cummings said he presumed the other six bodies were buried beneath the debris, which was scattered over a wide area by the impact. His party, he said, lacked facilities for removing the bodies

OHIO COLLEGES FAIL, PROFESSORS CHARGE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18 — Members of faculties of four Ohio colleges said here yesterday that the schools are authoritarian in makeup and their professors do not like to adapt their classes to fit the needs of students with less ability.

Speaking on Columbus Town Meeting, Dean Donald P. Cottrell of Ohio State university said many professors "regard adaptation (of their curricula) as abandonment of the proper standards of scholarship" He declared there is "a certain unreadiness on some campuses to welcome with open arms all who are certified for entrance"

Dr. Milton Yinger of Ohio Wesleyan said that to a large extent college students are drawn from the upper income levels despite state universities and the GI bill of rights.

Many Ohio colleges are failing in their responsibility in meeting the interest and objectives of the veterans, said Dr. Spencer Shank of the University of Cincinnati.

Barrett Hollister, dean of students at Antioch college said "to a serious extent colleges are authoritarian institutions run from the top down by absentee boards of trustees"

ATOMIC EDUCATION PROGRAM LAUNCHED

By The Associated Press

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18—A campaign for a $1,000,000 fund for general education on the social implications of atomic energy was opened here yesterday by Professor Albert Einstein and eight other scientists.

Einstein, in a nationwide radio broadcast, said of the fund appeal that "our efforts have their origin in a feeling of the heavy responsibility which physicists have taken upon themselves by the creation of the atom bomb."

The fund appeal, announced by the emergency Committee of Atomic Scientists, Inc, said:

"These facts are accepted by all scientists:

"1—Atomic bombs can now be made cheaply and in large number. They will become more destructive.

"2—There is no military defense against the atomic bomb and none can be expected.

"3—Other nations can rediscover our secret processes by themselves.

"4—Preparedness against atomic warfare is futile, and if attempted will ruin the structure of our social order.

"5—If war breaks out, atomic bombs will be used and they will surely destroy our civilization.

"6—There is no solution to this problem except international control of atomic energy, and ultimately, the elimination of war.

"The program of the committee is to see that these truths become known to the public The democratic determination of this nation's policy on atomic energy must ultimately rest on understanding by its citizens"

Signing the statement with Einstein were Harold C Ulrey, University of Chicago, Hans A Bethe, Cornell, Thorfin R Hogness, University of Chicago, Philip M. Morse, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Linus Pauling, California Institute of Technology, Leo S Szilard, University of Chicago; Victor F. Weisskopf, M.I.T., and Selig Hecht, Columbia university.

HIGH COURT SPLITS 5-4 IN 1ST DECISION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Nov 18—The supreme court split 5 to 4 today in its first formal opinion of the new term.

It upheld a ruling that an interstate pipe line built by the Champlin Refining Co of Enid Okla., makes the firm a common carrier under interstate commerce commission jurisdiction

Justice Jackson, delivering the majority opinion, held that the power of congress to regulate interstate commerce extends over a private carrier

It was Jackson's first opinion in more than a year because of his absence at the Nuernberg Nazi trials. Justice Reed wrote a dissent in which Justices Frankfurter, Douglas and Burton joined

The court affirmed 6 to 3 the conviction on Mann act charges of six members of a "fundamentalist" cult which practices plural marriages

Justice Douglas delivered the majority opinion It noted that Justices Black and Jackson believed convictions should be reversed Justice Murphy wrote a dissenting opinion.

The six were convicted in federal court in Salt Lake City They said that in practicing plural marriage—their term for it is "celestial marriage"—they were observing a mandate from God

The government replied that a professed religious belief in plural marriage could not absolve anyone under the white slave act

The act bars transportation [illegible] girls for the purpose of prostitution, debauchery, "or for any other immoral purpose."

Those convicted were [illegible] Kimball Cleveland, David [illegible] Darger, Vergel Y [illegible] Theral Ray Dockstader, L R Stubbs and Pollis Gardner Pe[illegible]

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 — Radio is to take a look at itself on its own air. It is setting a regular weekly period to do so under the title of "Radio and the Public." The network is CBS.

Dedication for the series was the subject address by William S. Paley, chairman of the network's board, to the National Association of Broadcasters at Chicago. In that address with the general theme "The Broadcaster's Responsibility to the Public," he criticized some of radio's advertising procedures and generally discussed the radio-listener relationship.

Coincident with the opening broadcast scheduled for Dec. 1, Paley announced it will go on the air, a thing which rarely does. The series will be conducted by Lyman Bryson as assistance in the theme of his presentation Sunday series at 1:30 p. m.

Listening tonight: NBC—8 Cavalcade Drama "Pinkerton Man;" 8:30 Barlow Concert; 9 Ezio Pinza in Voorhees concert; 10 Contented Concert; Eddy Duchin; 10:30 I. Q. Quiz.

CBS—7:30 Bob Hawk quiz; 8:30 Joan Davis comedy; 9 Veronica Lake in "O. S. S."; 10 Edward G. Robinson in "Blind Alley."

ABC—8:30 The Fat Man; 9 Dark Venture drama; 9:30 Johnny Olsen rumpus room; 10:30 Fantasy in Melody.

MBS — 8 Bulldog Drummond; 8:30 Gregory Hood casebook; 9:30 Guy Lombardo; 10:30 Broadway talks Back to Critics.

Off the Air Waves—Crosby's 12 point Hooper nosedive dominated the conversation in the kilocircles this week. The "live-show" drum beaters have assumed the expected "I-told-you-so" attitude while impartial observers believe the drop can not be attributed to the fact that the program is transcribed, but to other factors. An appreciable section of the radio audience is unable to detect any difference in the presentation of the program and is more interested in the entertainment value of the show than in its mechanical characteristics . . . NBC's promiscuous blue-penciling of comedy scripts is sending the blood pressures of the network's comedians soaring to a new high . . . Wally Brown, comic on the zany Joan Davis Show, is feeling much better these days since the medicos saved his three year old daughter's eyesight . . . Edgar Bergen's suggestion that the comedians alternate their programs with each other to give the laugh-getters more time to prepare a more solid show is receiving a sour reaction from network officials . . . Frank Sinatra's sponsors don't mind if his bobby-sockers swoon, but they are getting a bit worried because the show's Hooper rating is doing the same . . . Maurice Chevalier, the famed French singer, is slated to make his first guest appearance in this country on the Bob Hope Show . . . Paula Stone has checked out of the hospital after giving birth to a baby boy and will return to her two radio shows next week . . . Balladeer Burl Ives has been invited to give a "Command Performance" in England to sing his American folk songs and homespun music . . . Joan Crawford is being swamped with invitations to appear on radio shows when she visits New York shortly . . . The Army may take over the spot vacated by the "Spotlight Bands." . . . Lionel Barrymore is pulling strings to land Margaret O'Brien on his radio show "Mayor of the Town," "Mr. and Mrs. North" leaves the air next month . . . Phil Baker is debating whether to remain in Hollywood or return to New York.

People Are Learning About Funerals

Ideas of funerals are changing. Not so long ago there was a complete lack of information about funeral service.

Today it is different. Before investing sums that may run well into three figures, most people now want to know that they will receive value in service and merchandise for their money.

We welcome this change. It is in keeping with our policy of furnishing full information. We also invite the pre-arrangement of funerals. Such plans, made when minds are normal, are more apt to conform to the real desires of a family.

Truman Seen Having Trouble

Will Have To Modify Legislative Program To Get Along with G.O.P.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Signs multiplied today that President Truman will have difficulty getting united Democratic support for whatever legislative program he submits to the new Republican-dominated congress in January. If he hopes to win it, he may have to drop many past proposals.

Democratic leaders, still groggy from the Republican election landslide, have delayed any move to organize their forces for their new role in the minority.

They apparently are agreed, however, that Mr. Truman will write the official party program in his state of the union message. They seemingly have no intention of attempting to fix objectives, as the Republicans of both house and senate already have done.

Mr. Truman has given no concrete indication yet of the direction he intends to pursue in his recommendations, except to urge that the legislative and executive branche cooperate for the welfare of the nation.

But southern Democrats who haven't gone along in the past with many of the President's proposals openly hope that Mr. Truman won't bring up again such leftovers from the late President Roosevelt's agenda as anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation and proposals to establish a permanent fair employment practices commission.

New Deal senators and representatives, on the other hand, have seized on a phrase in Mr. Truman's truce message, in which he urged continuance of "a progressive concept of government," as a sign that he intends to continue to follow the Roosevelt line. Senator Pepper (D-Fla), for one, wants what he calls a "liberal" program and will fight proposals that he feels don't measure up to that standard.

That a party finds it a little easier to maintain unity, when in the minority, than when in the majority has been demonstrated since the election in Republican differences over leadership and legislative questions.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 2 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Files testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights, often indicates an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

WHEN Katharine had closed the door, I gestured to a chair opposite me, and when she had taken it, I leaned forward, and in muted tones, told her of Bertha Kent's startling message, and of the meeting and discussion which was taking place in the subterranean secret chamber. Katharine's face was dark with disapproval as she listened.

"Hugh, Lee Chow, Jack, your father, 'Mr. K' and Harry—they are the council?" she asked, when I had finished.

I nodded, and she broke into vehement speech.

"And you, the one who received the message, and who probably has its meaning all figured out, are left cooking your heels up here," she said. "Honestly, Madge, sometime I'd like to take your respected father and—"

The Reminder.

"Spare me the gory details," I said, smiling. "Besides, you're being disrespectful to 'the Chief.' I'll have to remind you, as I've been reminding myself for the past few minutes, that we're soldiers under orders, not prima donnas, able to pick and choose our assignments."

"Phooey, and apple sauce!" Katharine said, rising. "But, there's no use trying to 'rouse the beast' within you, patient Griselda. I'll just run along and lead the hostages up to your father's wing. Better close your door until the expedition passes. Just as I come abreast the door, I'll make some casual observation in a voice loud enough for you to hear. Then, a minute afterward, you can unsport your oak, and sally forth in search of Lillian."

"That will be perfect," I told her, and sat in darkness until I heard her say: "Don't stumble, Helena. There's a frayed spot in that rug."

"Madge ought to be a better housekeeper," Helena commented, and while I grinned at her catishness, I knew that Katharine, always my fierce champion, was longing to smack her face.

I waited a few seconds past the minute she had named, then went to Lillian's suite, finding her alone.

"Marion is in her own room?" I queried.

"I fancy so," Marion's mother replied. "I was just going over to see why she didn't come over here."

I put my hands on her shoulders, and looked at her with appeal in my eyes.

"Will you let me go over and talk to her first?" I asked. "There is something very important I wish to ask her, and—I don't think you would like the job."

She looked at the closed door a bit uneasily.

A Whispered Question

"Can you tell me about it?" she whispered.

"Very quickly," I said, and spoke rapidly in her ear, prison fashion.

"Does Marion know about the secret subterranean chamber, and the chimney stone entrance?" I asked, and she nodded.

"Harry and I decided that it was best she know," she said uneasily. "I hope we didn't decide wrong."

"Of course not," I said, "but—it would be fatal if Helena or Caroline got any inkling of it. You will be able to ride herd on Helena, but Carolyn will be more or less Marion's charge. Her job will be worse than taking care of a mischievous monkey in the zoo. I've got to ask Marion to do a bit of spying on Carolyn, and bring me the results of her espionage. I didn't think you would like to ask that of her."

I had seen a flash of panic in her eyes, but it had vanished almost as quickly as it had come. Then she spoke with apology — and gratitude in her voice.

I ought to be able to deal with my own daughter," she said, "but you do not know how grateful I am to have you take the task out of my hands. But hurry, please! She may be coming over here at any second."

"I'm already on my way," I told her, as I hurried through the door.
